AYLA: THE DAUGHTER OF WAR

Based on a true story, AYL: THE DAUGHTER OF WAR involves, during the Korean War, a young girl nearly frozen to death is saved by Süleyman, a sergeant in the Turkish Brigade, who gives her the nickname Ayla. The two form a friendship despite the language barrier between them, but are torn apart when Süleyman must return home

PLEASE NOTE: During the Introduction, Director Andy Friedenberg will present the “State of the Society” address. ALSO PLEASE NOTE: AYL: THE DAUGHTER OF WAR is in Turkish with English Subtitles.

Running Time: 125 Minutes • Not Rated

BORG VS. McENROE

BORG VS. McENROE tells the story of the epic rivalry between Swedish tennis legend Bjorn Borg (Stellan Skarsgard) and his greatest adversary, the brash American John McEnroe (Shia Labeouf), which came to a head during the 1980 Wimbledon Championships. In terms of temperament, they were opposites: one a paragon of cool containment, the other a volcano of visceral emotion. But they had something in common: they were the best. Darting between evocative flashbacks and an electrifying present tense, BORG VS. McENROE thrills us with feats of athletic mastery—and activates our empathy with insights into what it takes to win.

Running Time: 107 Minutes • Rated R for language throughout, and some nudity.

PURPLE DREAMS

Following the talented and driven students of Charlotte’s Northwest School of the Arts, black youth stereotypes are turned upside-down. A three-year journey serves as an inspirational window into the lives of inner-city, at-risk students who succeed at their passion while embracing the transformative power of their arts education as they audition, rehearse and perform the first ever full-length high school production of The Color Purple. With access to art education and academic mentors, at-risk youth have the potential to break the cycle of poverty in a single generation. Struggling with homelessness, low-income neighborhoods, gang-related violence and single parent households, these students broaden their education through participation in a triumphant musical production that ultimately propels them into a world of opportunity they never expected.

Running Time: 72 Minutes • Rated R
